The Certified Health & Productivity Management Outstanding Organizations Recognition Program acknowledges companies that excel in health and productivity management by actively tackling local health concerns and fostering well-being, as advocated by the Nippon Kenko Kaigi.

We are dedicated to promoting a range of initiatives designed to foster a workplace where every employee can thrive both physically and mentally, enhancing their overall vitality. We believe that this certification signifies the comprehensive recognition of these efforts.

Specific Initiatives We Have Taken

- Establishment of a health-conscious workplace environment
- Provision of comprehensive health support programs to enhance well-being
- Communication subsidy system to encourage interaction
- Implementation of regular stress checks

Moving forward, we remain committed to actively supporting employees in their health journeys and will promote effective health and productivity management, reinforcing our role as a vital provider of social infrastructure.
