This Nikko IR’s website quality ranking reveals the outcomes of a survey aimed at assessing the effectiveness of information disclosure on corporate websites of listed companies. This initiative seeks to promote greater awareness of information transparency. The survey employs objective evaluation criteria, focusing on three primary perspectives: clarity, usability, and the comprehensiveness of the information. In FY2025, a survey was conducted on the websites of all 3,937 listed companies in Japan. Our corporate website was honored for the second consecutive year with the “Best Website” designation in the Sector Ranking for warehousing and transportation and the “AA Website” designation in the All Markets Ranking.

We believe this selection reflects our commitment to transparent information disclosure through active dialogue with shareholders and investors. Moving forward, we will continue to prioritize engagement with all stakeholders and strive to deepen the understanding of the Group by further enhancing the quality of our communications, including our corporate website.
